

Clark named Deputy Chief of Staff for TDCJ

Jason Clark has been named Deputy Chief of Staff for the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, effective November 1.

Clark began his career with the department as a Public Information Officer in 2006, and was promoted to director of the agency's Public Information Office in 2013.

Clark holds a bachelor's degree in Broadcast Journalism from Sam Houston State University. Prior to coming to TDCJ, he worked as a producer, reporter and bureau chief.

Jason Clark

TDCJ Executive Director Bryan Collier congratulated Clark on his selection, saying "Jason's extensive and diverse background will serve this department well as he transitions into this critical position." ▲