

An employee publication of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice

July/August 2016

Volume 23 Issue 6

Agency News

Robinson named deputy director of Executive Administration for Parole Division

Jennifer Robinson has been selected as deputy director of Executive Administration for TDCJ's Parole Division, effective August 1. The Parole Division supervises offenders released from prison who are serving out their sentences in Texas communities and performs some pre-release investigation and tracking functions.

Robinson has 18 years of experience with TDCJ, beginning her career as a parole officer and subsequently holding several supervisory positions, including assistant director for the Parole Division's Huntsville Placement and Release Unit and, most recently, director of the Review and Release Processing section.

Jennifer Robinson

Pamela Thielke, director of TDCJ's Parole Division, commented on Robinson's promotion saying, "Her strong leadership experience and commitment to our mission will serve the agency well as she assumes her new role."

Robinson has a Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice, a Bachelor of Science in Psychology and a Master of Science in Criminal Justice Leadership and Management from Sam Houston State University. She is also a member of the American Probation and Parole Association. ●