Requirement to Report to Work in Emergency Situations

In an emergency situation that presents an immediate or potential threat to public safety as determined by a Warden or Department Head, it is mandatory that the following essential staff report to work: a) correctional officers and supervisors; b) parole officers and parole supervisory staff; and c) staff necessary to support emergency operations. Employees may be required to work overtime, have work schedules changed, have days off cancelled, and be temporarily reassigned to a different work location. If an employee is absent based on a claim of illness or injury on a day or days the employee was required to report to duty during an emergency response situation, the employee may be required to furnish a health care provider's statement within two workdays after the employee returns to work.

Mandatory evacuation orders given by local or state officials (e.g., for anticipated landfall of a hurricane) do not relieve employees from the requirement to report to work as required by their assigned daily schedule card or as directed by a supervisor in emergency situations. Failure to report to duty or remain on duty may result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal from employment.

Important Note

For purposes of employment with the TDCJ, convictions include sentenced to confinement, paid fine, time served, placed on probation (includes deferred adjudication) and court-ordered restitution.

Additional Standards for Non-Security Applicants are stated in job posting and position descriptions. In addition, Parole Officers are required to have access to and be willing to use their own transportation for work and that they carry liability insurance. Parole Officers must not have been convicted of any offense involving domestic violence, and must not have been discharged from the Armed Forces under dishonorable conditions. Minimum standards for entry level Substance Abuse Counselor applicants will be explained by the contact person listed on the job posting.

Assignments

Initial assignment locations within the TDCJ are determined by applicant preference, consistent with the needs of the agency. The TDCJ reserves the right to reassign employees to different locations if necessary to meet its needs. Employees may submit a request for reassignment to another location in accordance with published procedures. However, there are many requests on file for certain areas and the waiting time for reassignment to these areas may be excessive.

Employee Drug and Alcohol Testing

All employees are subject to reasonable suspicion drug and alcohol testing.

Overtime

Employees who are authorized overtime and required to work overtime will be given Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) compensatory time. This compensatory time will be banked, used or cashed out consistent with TDCJ policy.

Falsification of Application

It is important that the employment application be filled out completely and accurately. Any determination that the application has been falsified is grounds for refusing employment or terminating employment if already employed.

Organizational Affiliations

Affiliation with organizations that threaten the safety and security of a TDCJ facility may result in disqualification or termination of employment.

Employment Rights

Employees of the TDCJ are "at will" employees. This means that employment is for no definite period and may, regardless of the date or payment of wages and salary, be terminated at any time without prior notice.

Offender Relationships

TDCJ employees are prohibited from continuing or establishing a relationship with an offender or an offender's family member, if the relationship jeopardizes or has the potential to jeopardize the security of the TDCJ or compromises the effectiveness of the employee. Prohibited relationships include those involving cohabitation, sexual misconduct or actions that jeopardize or have the potential to jeopardize the security of the TDCJ. This means that employees may not have personal contact or relationships with offenders currently incarcerated or on parole outside of their official duties if this contact or relationship would jeopardize or has the potential to jeopardize the security of the TDCJ. Prohibited contact includes living together, writing letters or notes, telephone contact, visitation and depositing funds into an offender's trust fund. If an employee had a child together with an offender, employee contact with the offender or offender's family may be limited to that which is necessary to foster a relationship with the child. As a condition of employment with the TDCJ, employees with prohibited relationships must sever those relationships. Sever means to cease any and all cohabitation, intimate encounters, verbal or written communications, visitation and other prohibited contact. Continuation of a prohibited relationship after employment with the TDCJ may result in dismissal from employment if a determination is made by the TDCJ that the relationship jeopardizes or has the potential to jeopardize the security of the TDCJ.
